Dear Supporters and Friends,

Today we are sending you an urgent prayer update. Please pray with us in these exciting days and weeks as we are facing crucial next challenges:

- On this coming Sunday, June 12, we are going to have our second open meeting – an informal worship service in my living room. In spite of the great results of the first one the preparations for this one have been a struggle. Please pray for a good turnout again, for wisdom and power for my sermon, for a great discussion on the future shape of our church and a welcoming atmosphere towards our non-Christian friends.
- We are currently looking intensively for a room – our first meeting place and office space. It's not an easy search and binds up a lot of energy and time. Please pray for wisdom and God's providence. This is THE major next step for us.
- A few very famous individuals here in Berlin have shown interest in our project recently. They are all believers looking for a lively and relevant church. Please pray for wisdom for us and the team as we are making first personal contact with them and as we are thinking about working together on the Berlinprojekt.
- Konstantin and I have been stretched to the limits of our strength and capabilities these days. We need God's power and strength to make it through these coming days and weeks. Please pray for endurance, joy, spiritual power and physical health.

We will send an up-date on our situation and recent news soon. And, as we trust that God will answer also these prayer requests, I am looking forward to tell you more on how God responded to this letter.

Peace and greetings from Berlin,

Christian and Konstantin
